

Backend Developer

It is a special opportunity to join our funded startup, Access Fintech. Access Fintech is an innovative risk management service for banks and buy-side firms. The service helps firms track the trade lifecycle and get a true sense of prioritized risk, across an increasing number of systems. Access FinTech brings together fintech providers and in-house technology, orchestrating the interaction of the distributed providers and creating a single visual display of the risk of financial transactions in a global sharable view.

We are funded by J.P. Morgan alongside other banks and our client list includes some of the largest banks in the world!
